SUBJECT: Review of the Every Student Succeeds Act, Accountability, Report Card, and Assessments

PURPOSE:

To provide a review of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), and Maryland's model for accountability, report cards, and assessments.

BACKGROUND/HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE:

The Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), signed by President Barack Obama on December 10, 2015, reauthorized the 50-year-old Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA), the nation's national education law and longstanding commitment to equal opportunity for all students, and replaced the No Child Left Behind Act. The Every Student Succeeds Act had wide implications for all states requiring every state create and submit a State Consolidated ESSA Strategic Plan. Maryland's Plan was created with wide stakeholder input, was submitted to the United States Department of Education for review, and was approved by the Secretary of Education on January 16, 2018. Following the approval of the Maryland Consolidated ESSA Strategic Plan, each local school system created and submitted a local plan that was aligned with ESSA and the Maryland Plan.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY:

The main purpose of ESSA is to make sure public schools provide a quality education for all students including the achievement of students in poverty, student racial groups, males and females, students who receive special education services, and students with limited English proficiency. Under ESSA, each state was able to determine plans for schools within a framework provided by the federal government. The law also offered parents a chance to weigh in on plans.

Each state plan needed to include a description of:

- Academic standards,
- Annual testing,
- School accountability,
- Goals for academic achievement,
- Plans for supporting and improving struggling schools, and

- Requirements for state and local report cards.

There are additional requirements but the items indicated above constitute the major focus for states and school systems. The purpose of this presentation is to update the State Board on the major components of Maryland's accountability system, identify how schools are measured, show the data available in Maryland's report card, and provide an overview of our assessment program.

Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) Update, Accountability, Report Card, and Assessments

State Board of Education
October 27, 2020

Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA)

- The Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) was signed into law on December 10, 2015. The U.S. Department of Education approved Maryland's ESSA plan on January 16, 2018. The plan set into place improvement targets for schools and systems, and outlined assistance programs for schools not meeting the grade.
- ESSA is federal legislation that governs elementary and secondary education in America.
- ESSA reauthorized the Elementary and Secondary Education Act and replaced No Child Left Behind (NCLB)
- Maryland developed its ESSA plan after unprecedented outreach to citizens across the State.

- MD State Educators Association (MSEA)
- Baltimore Teachers Union (BTU)
- MD Higher Education Commission (MHEC)
- Charter Schools
- Legislative Services
- Governor's Office of Community Initiatives

- MD Association of Elementary School Principals
- MD Association of Secondary School Principals
- Greater Baltimore Urban League
- Teachers (MD Teachers of the Year)
- MD Developmental Disabilities Council
- Disability Rights MD

- University System of MD MD Center for Computing
- University System of MD Vice Chancellor's Office
- *Career and Technical Education
- *MD State Childcare Association
- National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP)
- Local Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum and Instruction

Communication, Collaboration, and Feedback

- ESSA External Stakeholder Committee meetings began on March 24, 2016 and from 2016 through 2018, the Committee met 15 times.
- The Committee also met in 2019, and has met to provide input on the Recovery Plan in 2020.
- The first State Board Meeting to address ESSA was February 23, 2016, and the State Board was briefed monthly through the submission, approval of the plan, and posting of the first Report Card in December 2018.
- Maryland also had an ESSA Internal Committee which met monthly to provide expertise and development of the plan.
- In addition, there were seven subcommittees (standards and assessments, accountability, supporting low performing schools, supporting all educators- certification, supporting all educators- professional development, equity, and supporting all students), each chaired/co-chaired by a member(s) of the Internal Committee.

Communication, Collaboration, and Feedback

- Maryland conducted five evening ESSA Listening Tours in January 2017 across the State in:
 - Western Maryland
 - Eastern Shore
 - Baltimore Metro Region
 - Capital Metro Region
 - Southern Maryland

The purpose of the Listening Tours was to reach out to the community regionally to gather input on accountability, the report card, support to low performing schools, and other ESSA areas. The Listening Tours were attended by more than 500 parents and community members.

- MSDE also administered and analyzed an ESSA Stakeholder survey to gather specific responses to the elements of the plan, for example support to low performing schools.
- MSDE staff conducted more than 90 distinct outreach meetings to explain Maryland's Consolidated ESSA Plan and to gather feedback.

Highlights of ESSA

- Each state must include a description of the following:
 - Academic standards – each state must set challenging academic standards in English/Language Arts, mathematics, and science which prepare students for college and career
 - Annual testing – all students in grade 3 through 8 must be assessed annually in English/Language Arts and mathematics and once in high school; students must also be assessed in science, once in each grade band 3 to 5, 6 to 8, and high school. Only 1% of students may be assessed in an alternate assessment

- School accountability – schools must be held accountable for how students achieve and each state was required to a plan to identify schools that are underperforming. The accountability model must include five indicators.

The first four are academic indicators that are mandatory:

- Academic achievement
- Academic progress
- English language proficiency
- High school graduation rates

The fifth measure must be a way to measure school quality or student success, and states could select a number of ways to measure this indicator.

- Goals for academic achievement - States had to set ambitious achievement goals for students – the means to measure whether students are improving or not..

- Plans for supporting and improving struggling schools - required states to identify schools that are struggling. The two categories of struggling schools that states need to improve are:
 - Comprehensive Support and Improvement (CSI) schools - the lowest 5% performing schools in a state. In Maryland, there are 40 CSI schools in 3 local school systems.
 - Additional Targeted Support and Improvement schools (ATSI) – schools in which certain student groups are consistently underperforming. In Maryland, there are 372 ATSI schools in 23 local school systems.
- State and local report cards -ESSA requires that each state and school district publish report cards. States and local school systems must have public information available on how schools are doing by the aggregate and by student group performance. Among other things, the following must be reported:

Test score results	High school graduation rates
School funding information	Teacher qualifications

Protect Our Schools Act

- Passed by the General Assembly in 2017
- Among other requirements, limited the value of the academic indicators (academic achievement, academic progress, graduation rate, EL performance, readiness for post secondary success) to 65%
- The school quality/student success indicators were valued at 35% and had to include three indicators.

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT

HOW DID STUDENTS PERFORM ON STATE TESTS?

The academic achievement indicator is a combination of the percent of students scoring “proficient” or higher on state tests in Math and English Language Arts, and the average performance level of students on state tests.

MEASURE	RESULTS	EARNED POINTS*
Percent Proficient Mathematics	45.6%	2.3 out of 5.0
Percent Proficient English Language Arts	48.5%	2.4 out of 5.0
Average Performance Level Mathematics	3	3 out of 5.0
Average Performance Level English Language Arts	3	3 out of 5.0
		10.7 EARNED POINTS

Each larger indicator is then broken down into its component measures. For example, “Academic Achievement” includes percent proficient in math and English language arts, and average performance level in math and English language arts.

ACADEMIC PROGRESS

HOW DID STUDENTS PERFORM ON OTHER ACADEMIC MEASURES AND GROWTH?

The academic progress indicator consists of multiple academic measures. Schools are measured on the growth of students over time on Math and English language arts state tests, and on earning credit for a well rounded curriculum.

MEASURE	RESULTS	EARNED POINTS*
Percent Proficient Science	26.5%	1.3 out of 5.0
Student Growth Percentile Mathematics	38	4.5 out of 12.5
Student Growth Percentile English Language Arts	41.5	5 out of 12.5

SCHOOL QUALITY AND STUDENT SUCCESS

WHAT IS THE QUALITY OF THE SCHOOL ENVIRONMENT?

This indicator includes the percent of students not absent 10 percent or more school days during the year, a school survey, and the percent of students enrolled in a well rounded curriculum.

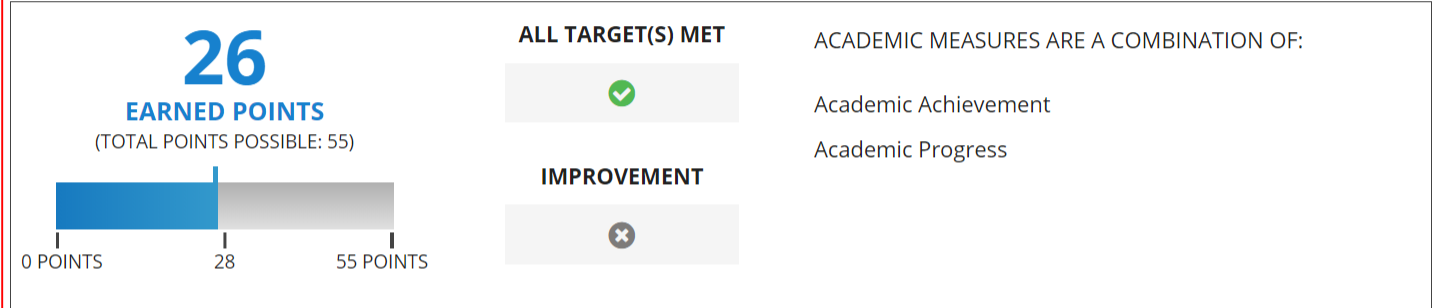

MEASURE	RESULTS	EARNED POINTS*
Students not chronically absent	74.6%	6.5 out of 15.0

Due to the federal Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) MSDE is prohibited from releasing individually identifiable information to the public (<http://nces.ed.gov/pubsearch/pubsinfo.asp?pubid=2011603>). Because of this requirement we had to remove all of our archived websites prior to 2011 because in some cases it was possible to identify individual students. FERPA protects their right to privacy. We applied certain suppression rules to our website beginning in 2011 to meet the FERPA requirements.

First Term Performance

Metrics

First Term Performance Metrics

Part A: Recovery Plan Implementation Measures

- A1. How many instructional days has fully online distance learning been available to students?
- A2. How many instructional days has in-person instruction been available to students? In-person instruction may include students and the teacher of record in the same physical space; individual students and/or small or large groups of students and an instructor/aide in the same place working through distance learning material; and/or any other form of instruction in which a student(s) and a system-provided instructor/aide/supervisor are in the same physical space. (See Question C5 below.)
- A3. How many total hours of synchronous instructional time was provided per week to students? Report by grade level.
- A4. For what percent of enrolled students have attempts at contact been unsuccessful? (In other words, what percent of enrolled students have never attended class and have not responded to any other form of contact?)
- A5. By the end of the first marking period, what percent of students had access to all required technology for online distance learning (devices and Internet access)? [Note: will be replaced by comprehensive technology survey]
- A6. What percent of teachers and principals have received training on effective distance learning practices?
- A7. What percent of non-teacher/principal instructional staff have received training on effective distance learning practices?

First Term Performance Metrics

Part A: Recovery Plan Implementation Measures

A8. What percent of staff have received training on appropriate health/hygiene/cleaning procedures?

A9. During the first marking period, what was the percent attendance for the entire school system? Provide for all students and disaggregated by race/ethnicity, student service groups (SWD, EL, ED), and gender.

A10. During the first marking period, what was the percent attendance for elementary schools only? Provide for all students and disaggregated by race/ethnicity, student service groups (SWD, EL, ED), and gender.

A11. During the first marking period, what was the percent attendance for middle schools only? Provide for all students and disaggregated by race/ethnicity, student service groups (SWD, EL, ED), and gender.

A12. During the first marking period, what was the percent attendance for high schools only? Provide for all students and disaggregated by race/ethnicity, student service groups (SWD, EL, ED), and gender

A13. During the first marking period, what was the percent attendance for combined elementary/middle and/or middle/high schools only? Provide for all students and disaggregated by race/ethnicity, student service groups (SWD, EL, ED), and gender.

First Performance Term Metrics

Part B: Start-of-Year Student Diagnostic

For each grade level and subject area, report the percent of assessed students who the diagnostic determined were:

- “Below expectation,” meaning they are estimated to be below grade level and/or behind where the diagnostic predicted they would have been at the start of the school year given their academic progress during the previous school year
- “At expectation,” meaning they are estimated to be on grade level and/or at the level predicted by the diagnostic given their academic progress during the previous school year
- “Above expectation,” meaning they are estimated to be ahead of grade level and/or ahead of where the diagnostic predicted they would have been at the start of the school year given their academic progress during the previous school year

First Term Performance Metrics

Part C: Implementation Narrative

C1. Describe the way the system implemented the Recovery Plan's process to accelerate learning and/or provide support in recovering learning loss. How has the system used the results of the diagnostic assessment and other information to identify and address student learning needs? How is instruction being delivered and adapted to meet student learning needs?

C2. Describe the way the system is following the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, and Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

C3. Describe the way students who are consistently marked absent are being engaged.

C4. Describe the way the system has been tracking attendance when students are engaged in distance learning. How is the system's attendance policy being implemented? What is the process for determining that a student is "present" or "absent" when engaged in distance learning (particularly when learning is asynchronous)? How is that information recorded centrally by the system?

C5. If any students participated in in-person instruction, please describe the circumstances under which this took place. If possible, include:

- The number of participating students
- The grade level(s) of participating students
- The demographics of participating students, including race/ethnicity, service group membership, and gender
- The frequency and duration of in-person instruction (daily/weekly, number of minutes per session, etc.)
- The format of in-person instruction (how many students per instructor, whether students worked through distance learning material in the same physical space or whether the instructor provided direct instruction, whether the instructor was the teacher of record, etc.)
- How students were selected to participate in in-person instruction
- Where in-person instruction took place

Federal Peer Review

- Each of our state assessments used for federal accountability must go through Federal Peer Review.
- Assessment peer review is the process through which a State demonstrates the technical soundness of its assessment system.
- Success on federal assessment peer review requires that the State has taken the steps to develop and implement a technically sound State assessment system.
- Therefore, the quality of our assessment system is both developed with the help of Technical Advisors and checked for quality by the federal peer review system.
